COVID-19 Guidance and Suggestions

The AZ Department of Education created a resource page here. This page contains guidance and resources for Arizona's public district and charter schools as they navigate COVID-19 response. The situation around COVID-19 is rapidly changing, so please continue to check this page for updates and guidance.

Online Resources on Education

Per closure statement, school districts will need to create their own resources and contents. Below are some suggestions. The Arizona Department of Education also created a resource list here.

Scholastic Learn At Home: Scholastic announced that it has created a free, open-access digital hub — Scholastic Learning at Home — with education materials for children in Pre-K to Grades 6-9. According to the announcement, the website provides up to three hours of learning opportunities each day. Subjects include English language arts, STEM, science, social studies and social-emotional learning. There is no login or account required. Parents can access the site at www.scholastic.com/learnathome.

Khan Academy: Khan Academy is a nonprofit with a "mission is to provide a free, world-class education to anyone, anywhere." Khan "(offers) exercises, quizzes, and tests so students can practice and master skills, as well as instructional videos to help students learn or review material," their website says. They are also holding special COVID-19 livestreams for parents and teachers looking for resources. Learn more here.

PBS Learning Media For Kids: A free website (account required) with different activities. Visit <https://az.pbslearningmedia.org/student/>.

PBS Kids Daily Newsletter: Parents can sign up for the PBS KIDS Daily Newsletter for activities and tips for kids to learn at home.

ED.TED.COM lauched TED-Ed@home to support students, parents and educators. K-12

Smithsonian: Parents and kids can play games, take a 3D look at some of the Smithsonian's collections, and view photos and information about specific items in its collection. Visit <https://www.si.edu/kids>.

Access to Food- Food Banks and Other Food Services

As of March 23, St. Mary's Food Bank Alliance, United Food Bank, Desert Mission Food Bank, Community Food Bank of Southern Arizona, and Yuma Community Food Bank are all open. Some are changing to drive-up protocols and, of course, they are all increasing cleaning frequency.

Food pantries, soup kitchens and other charities that serve people may need to change their hours or distribution models. If you or someone you know needs help with food, visit this directory to find an agency that serves your (or their) zip code and call ahead. Even if no one answers, many organizations will have an outgoing message with more information.

Many Farmers Markets accepting SNAP benefits are still open but Farm Express (which delivers produce to senior centers, senior living facilities, and health clinics) decided to temporarily ground both buses.

Access to Food- School Meal Service Locations

Governor Ducey has announced a statewide closure of public schools throughout the end of the school year. Many schools are serving free grab-and-go meals during the COVID-19 outbreak.

Suddenlink

Suddenlink is offering free 30 Mbps broadband internet for 60 days to any new customer household within their service areas with K-12 and/or college students who may be displaced due to school closures and who do not currently have home internet access. Eligible households interested in this solution can call 888-633-0030 to enroll in Suddenlink region.

In honoring the Keep Americans Connected Pledge, for the next 60 days they will:

- Not terminate broadband and voice service to any residential or small business customers because of their inability to pay their bills due to the disruptions caused by the coronavirus pandemic
- Waive any late fees that any residential or small business customers incur because of their economic circumstances related to the coronavirus pandemic
- Open their WiFi hotspots to any American who needs them.

Sparklight (formerly CableOne)

Sparklight will be making unlimited data available on all internet services for the next 30 days and waiving late fees for its customers for the next 60 days. Additionally, Sparklight is offering payment deferrals to customers who call to make arrangements. The company plans to reassess after 30 days based on the continued impact and evolving nature of the virus.

CenturyLink

For the next 60 days, CenturyLink has committed to waive late fees and to not terminate a residential or small business customer's service due to financial circumstances associated with COVID-19. They are also suspending data usage limits for consumer customers during this time period due to COVID-19.

The Federal Communications Commission has an agreement which states that providers will waive late fees, not cutoff service for lack of payment, and open hotspots for increased accessibility to the internet. Visit <https://docs.fcc.gov/public/attachments/DOC-363033A1.pdf> for information.

Cox Communications

Cox internet is expanding their hotspots and strengthening their WiFi so that students who don't already have internet can find in various locations.

Cox is also offering the following over the next 60 days, through May 15:

A $19.99 offer for new Starter internet customers with a temporary boost up to 50 Mbps download speeds, no annual contract or qualifications to help low income and those impacted from COVID-19 challenges, like seniors and college students.

Eliminating data usage overages beginning today to meet the higher bandwidth demands.

Customers with a 500 GB or Unlimited data usage add-on plan will receive credits.

Free access to over 650,000 Wi-Fi hotspots. Visit <https://www.cox.com/residential/internet/learn/cox-hotspots.html>

Comcast

Internet Essentials

New Internet Essentials customers will receive two free months of internet service, which is available to all qualified low-income households for $9.95/month plus tax. Apply by April 30, 2020.

Additionally, for all new and existing Internet Essentials customers, the speed of the program's internet service has increased to 25 Mbps downstream and 3 Mbps upstream. That increase will go into effect automatically for no additional fee.

You may qualify if you:

- Live in an area where Comcast Internet Service is available.
- Are eligible for public assistance programs like the National School Lunch Program, housing assistance, Medicaid, SNAP, SSI, and others.
- Have not subscribed to Comcast Internet within the last 90 days.
- Have no outstanding debt to Comcast that is less than one year old.

Signing up is easy and fast from your mobile device, go to: <https://apply.internetessentials.com/>

Xfinity WiFi Free for Everyone

Xfinity WiFi hotspots across the country will be available to anyone who needs them for free – including non-Xfinity Internet subscribers. For a map of Xfinity WiFi hotspots, visit <https://wifi.xfinity.com/>. Once at a hotspot, consumers should select the "xfinitywifi" network name in the list of available hotspots and then launch a browser.

Utilities

Utility companies including SPR, APS, Southwest Gas, municipal water, and COX have agreed not to disconnect for nonpayment and waiving late-payment fees.

SRP

“We know that our residential and business customers are being greatly impacted by this unforeseen event. Because of this, we will not turn customers' power off for nonpayment during the COVID-19 pandemic. We will also waive all late-payment fees. This applies to both residential and commercial customers.”. SRP Resources here

APS Statement

“ If you are having difficulty paying your energy bill during this time, we will not shut off power for nonpayment, and we are waiving late fees as well.

We know the pandemic will affect your personal and work life. If you need assistance with your bill, please reach out. We are setting up a Customer Support Fund that will be available starting Wednesday, March 18. Meanwhile, we have a number of additional resources and programs listed on our website at aps.com/support. You can call us at (602) 371-7171 (Phoenix) or (800) 253-9405 (other areas), weekdays from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. We do expect call volumes could be high and will do our best to get to calls in a timely manner. We continue to monitor the situation and will provide additional information to support our customers as things evolve. ”

Southwest Gas Statement

“We understand that these are trying times for many of our customers and want to ensure that you focus on the well-being of your families without having to worry about any disruption of service from Southwest Gas. As such, we have stopped service disconnections indefinitely, until the coronavirus situation improves. For customers experiencing financial hardship, we are here to help with flexible payment options.” Customers can request assistance via their online account here.

Tucson Electric Power

We stand ready to help customers affected by this pandemic with payment extensions or enrollment in short-term assistance and bill discount programs. We know some customers could face financial challenges because of this public health threat, so we are suspending service disconnections and late fees until further notice. Resources here

UniSource Energy Services

“We stand ready to help customers affected by this pandemic with payment extensions or enrollment in short-term assistance and bill discount programs. We know some customers could face financial challenges because of this public health threat, so we are suspending service disconnections and late fees until further notice. [...] Also, as a precaution, the payment window at our Nogales office will remain closed until further notice. For information about payment options, click here.

Mesa Water

Mesa Mayor John Giles confirmed with City staff at a regularly scheduled Council meeting today, that the City's energy and water resources departments are not shutting off electric, gas or water services to customers with delinquent accounts during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.[...] "Customers would still receive the delinquent notice in the mail. However, if they are not able to pay the bill because of financial hardship, they are encouraged to call the City's customer service line (480-644-2221) to make payment arrangements and to allow staff to make the appropriate notations on their utility account.

Rent & Mortgage

Governor Ducey made an official declaration that will stop evictions for 120 days due to COVID-19 developments.

Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac \(the Enterprises\) and the Federal Home Loan Banks are taking steps to help people who have been impacted by the coronavirus. If your ability to pay your mortgage is impacted, and your loan is owned by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac, you may be eligible to delay making your monthly mortgage payments for a temporary period, during which:

- You won't incur late fees.
- You won't have delinquencies reported to the credit bureaus.

Foreclosure and other legal proceedings will be suspended

FHFA has established a dedicated webpage with relevant updates and resources available here: [www.fhfa.gov/coronavirus\(link is external\)](http://www.fhfa.gov/coronavirus(link is external))

Additionally, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have their own dedicated webpages for homeowners, with online tools for determining if your mortgage is owned by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac:

Tips For Renters Facing Evictions

You must contact your landlord in writing and include documentation to support delaying eviction. Fill out the document created by Community Legal Services for renters affected by COVID-19 and give to your landlord.

If you have tested positive for COVID-19 or are quarantined because others in your home have the virus or symptoms, collect documentation from a medical provider.

If you can't work, lost your job or are homebound to care for a school-age child, collect notices from your employer and pay stubs.

If you don't have supporting documents, write a statement explaining your current conditions such as illness or loss of income, etc.

Assistance with rent and utilities may be available through the Ryan White HIV/AIDS Program.

If you need legal assistance in Northern Arizona contact Peoples Legal Services \(DNA\), in Central Arizona contact Community Legal Services \(CLS\) and in Southern Arizona contact Southern Arizona Legal Aid \(SALA\).

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Can I Be Evicted During Covid-19?

Yes. But a 120-day order delaying evictions for renters impacted by COVID-19 in Arizona is in effect. Make sure you communicate with your landlord.

Should I Continue To Pay My Rent?

Yes. You are still responsible for paying rent. Failure to pay rent can result in an eviction, now or later. If your landlord will not take rent money, save your rent money and contact Legal Aid.

If I Cant Pay My Rent Can My Landlord Lock Me Out Or Turn Off Utilities?

No. Your landlord is not allowed to lock you out of your home or turn off your utilities forcing you to leave. The only way they can force you out is by evicting you through the court. If your landlord tries to force you out in other ways, contact Legal Aid immediately.

Can My Landlord Prevent Me From Allowing A Guest Into My Apartment Or Home?

Check with your landlord about new rules and restrictions during this public health crisis

Employment Resources

These types of resources are fairly limited given that companies are conducting layoffs and furloughing employees. Goodwill of Central and Northern Arizona has however online resources available through www.mycareeradvisor.com. Daily updates to MyCareerAdvisor.com include resources on the home page and the Resources tab at the top of every page. Goodwill of Central and Northern Arizona is prioritizing more online training opportunities, to best recreate the experience and support (temporarily unavailable in-person) at our Career Centers.
